7.2 The affected Party ("Affected Party") must give the other Party prompt written notice of the Force Majeure Event stating the nature of the condition and when the condition began and must make commercially reasonable attempts to ameliorate, avoid or remove the effects of the Force Majeure Event and continue performance under such Sales Agreement as soon as possible. 8.2 The net amount due after such liquidation shall be paid by the close of business on the next Business Day. The "Termination Payment" in respect to each Sales Agreement shall be (a) the amount owed on or before the termination date, whether or not then due, by each Party with respect to all Solvents delivered and received under the terminated Sales Agreements but not yet paid for, (b) the difference between the Market Value and the Contract Value for each terminated Sales Agreement, (c) any other amounts owed by the Parties, and (d) any other damages, costs or expenses incurred by the Non-Defaulting Party as a result of the early termination of each Sales Agreement being terminated, including, without duplication, any damages, losses and expenses incurred in connection with the liquidation of hedges related to such terminated Sales Agreements. After an Event of Default, the Defaulting Party is also responsible for any other costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements) incurred by the Non-Defaulting Party in connection with such Default.

8.4 In addition to the remedies set forth above, immediately upon the occurrence of any event that would give rise to an Event of Default with either or both the lapse of time or the giving of notice, the Non-Defaulting Party may suspend all performance under any or all Sales Agreements.

Additionally, each Party's rights under this Section constitute a "contractual right to liquidate" the Sales Agreements within the meaning of Section 556 of the Bankruptcy Code. All Sales Agreements are entered into in reliance on the fact that the GTCs and all Sales Agreements thereunder form a single agreement between the Parties. Upon a Party becoming bankrupt, the other Party shall be entitled to exercise its rights and remedies under these GTCs in accordance with the safe harbor provisions of the Bankruptcy Code."
